ZX Spectrum 128 and

Amstrad CPC 464, CPC 664
and CPC 6128
Commodore 64 and 128

As a heavily armed humanoid, you blast, battle, bound and blunder your way over more than a hundred screens of blood curdling action. Release a deadly grenade to devastate a birth pod and shoot the hordes of aliens that slither and scramble to overwhelm you. Rocket a gun emplacement and pneumatic hammers hurl you end over end back across the screen. And in a new twist, some of the screens can be played as a vulnerable but athletic Vitorc or as Exolon, a lumbering but powerful exoskeleton.

PLAYING THE GAME

With both keyboard and joystick, if the fire button is pressed rapidly, then the blasters operate. If pressed and held for more than half a second then a grenade will be lobbed.

Blaster

Small hand blaster which destroys virtually all organic enemy life forms. Can penetrate thin armour with several direct hits, but is useless against 'thick skinned' gun emplacements etc.

Hyper-alloy Exoskeleton

A hydraulically manoeuvred exoskeleton which the main character wears enabling him to effortlessly wade through enemy hordes protecting him from all but the most powerful of enemy guns and projectiles.
